Keep on Shaggin'

June 1995

From the President - By Charlie Price

HELP! Along with the coming of summer there is an increase in Club activities. If you have not already been asked, over the next several weeks you will be asked to help out on one of your Club's committees. When you are, please step up and help us out. It takes a lot of work to keep this Club going, and while your Board does the lion's share of the work, we can't do it all by ourselves.

For those of us (including Yours Truly) who go into withdrawal when we don't Shag more than once a week, some relief is in sight: Beginning June 11th, we will be sponsoring a "Sunday Social" on the second Sunday of each month from 5:00 until 9:00 p.m. at the Cool Hands Cafe. The details are in this newsletter, so don't be a drag, come on out and Shag!

In case you haven't noticed, the high season for Shag weekends has begun. Check out the flyers and the calendar at the back of this newsletter. If you like to Shag, and I assume you do or you wouldn't be a member of our Club, you really owe it to yourself to visit one of our sister clubs for their weekend bash. Ask around the Club, the odds are that you will find at least one member who is going to any bash that you are interested in, particularly if it is in Virginia or the Carolinas. I doubt that you can find a better weekend bargain, and I know that you will not find a more fun-filled weekend, anytime, anywhere.

Last, but certainly not least, our DC Hand Dance Preservation Society brothers and sisters have a goodly number of dance venues going on every week across the river in Maryland, and have arranged for some major weekend entertainment this Summer. (I have it on the best of authority that they are bringing the Band of Oz up here at the end of August!) As I hope most of you are aware, Carolina Shaggers and Hand Dancers dance to Beach Music. The Hand Dancers have been there for us, both when we were at the Juke Box, and now at Deja Vu, so let's return the support. GET UP, GET OUT, AND KEEP ON SHAGGIN'

MYRTLE BEACH MEMORIES

What's SOS, you ask? Remember your college days and spring break? Simply said, SOS is spring break in later years. Party!! Dance, dance, dance and more dancing. Fat Harold's, Duck's, OD Arcade, beer, wine, good friends, new friends, old friends. Boy, did you see the youngsters (Junior shaggers) do their thing at the Grill? WOW! (Dream on, John.....)

How about our good neighbors from Richmond, Larry and Shirley Jones? You old smoothies! Congratulations. Oops! Pauline said, "Come on, John, they're playing our song." Man, my feet ache! God, my legs hurt! Push on, push on..... Thank God, it's 3 a.m. Sleep, SLEEEEP.

Rick said, "Tee Time at Robbers Roost!" Golfing with the boys. SOS Spring golf tournament each morning, 11 a.m. Push on.....

Donna and Pauline need a new pair of shoes. Barefoot Landing, Belks, The Shoe Store, push on, push on.....

Heard where the best fish chowder is ... Captain Juels Little River Mmmmmm Mmmm! Push on.....

Cocktail hour at Ocean Annie's. Dance; a screwdriver. Dance; a screwdriver. Dance, dance, dance, and more dances. Push, push, push on.....

Sunshine, tanning, poolside party with the Richmond Shag Club. Tilghman's Free Pour. Charlie and Jackie at their best. Rockin' Judy spinning the greatest hits. And you ask what SOS is? Need I say more? And just think, today is the first of seven more.... Push, push on... by John Belt

On Friday evening, Gary & Sharon Salpini, and Dave & Ruth Rapson welcomed H.K. Lee & Debbie Hewitt (of VA Beach) at their final destination and favorite haunt, the Boulevard Grill. Interestingly enough, because of some bureaucratic-like mumbo jumbo, the Grill's free party was exempt from the SOS membership organization. Therefore, perhaps unconsciously to justify the big cost of their SOS tickets, the three couples cruised methodically through the full array of SOS frenzied, affiliated clubs. In a continual effort to discover adequate dance space amongst the frolicking hordes, they rediscovered Zack's, which featured a very do-able dance floor and free eats. What a deal! Taking time only to shower, nap, toss down scrumptious strawberries and sample the local cuisine, without a doubt, the six smoothies from Northern Virginia took full advantage of the SOS delirium of music and Shaggin'. by H.K. Lee

Dances with Champions at the Boulevard Grill. . . Smooth, smoothies Sid & Linda looking good, while Nick & Debbie partied on . . . Brent Key, Sy Creed and other juniors showing the best in Myrtle Beach Shaggin' . . . and a dazzling display by Brent and Dana Brown!!

Breathtaking demo by JoJo Putnam at the Pad. . .

Ellen Taylor, gliding through Harold's, gracious as always. . . Catfish -- everywhere!

Jackie and Charlie at Duck's . . .

Second floor ocean front balcony - great for displaying our Club banner. It produced some interesting comments. People are beginning to know that Northern Virginians are Shaggers, too.

Miss P's stupendous jello shooters, as power packed as any wild west six-shooter. They are potent!

Strawberry yummys poolside at Ambassador East with Nick and Debbie, Karen and Bob -- wish we could see more of these guys!

Front row seats for the first-ever Saturday S.O.S. parade -- how do these people get up so early? by Donna Harrington

GALLEY GAL

Jello-Vodka Shooters

1 - large pkg jello - your favorite flavor
Dissolve jello w/ small amount of hot water
Let it cool a little
Stir in vodka to complete the recipe
Pour into those small little plastic cups (used for pills or condiments)
Chill. Serve!
OR, if you don't have those little cups, pour about 1" into an ice cube tray; chill. Serve!
(To remove jello cubes easily, set bottom of tray in hot water for a minute.)

A Lesson in Class . . . By Janis Grimes

Although I was born in Washington, D.C., and raised in Northern Virginia, I have solid roots in North Carolina -- my mother was from Henderson, and so we made that road trip and visited my grandparents often when I was growing up; my older brother was born and raised in Durham and attended Duke University; I attended college at (where else?) East Carolina in Greenville; and I still have friends and relatives in N.C.

Just thought I'd mention it, in case someone might have the mistaken idea that since I'm a "native," then I must be a damn Yankee or something close to it..... (haha). But everyone knows that Northern Virginia is not "the North" -- don't they? This area is abundant with memorials, souvenirs, artifacts -- you can hardly go a mile without spotting some historical marker or other, noting an event of significance from the Civil War, which was fought all over Northern Virginia, by the way. But, I digress

Class -- some have it, and some don't. By "class" I mean that quality possessed by people who know just how to put others at ease, who go out of their way to make sure that you're comfortable and that you're having an enjoyable time. One of the hallmarks of the Shag world is the way Shaggers treat people. I have never -- in all the Shag events, weekend functions and the times I've been to Myrtle Beach -- ever, seen any sign of disrespectful or discourteous behavior among the Shaggers -- even with all that partyin' going on! Of course, there are exceptions to everything, but in this case it must be truly rare. (Okay, once -- there was a gal on an elevator who'd had waaay too much to drink, and I guess she forgot she was in mixed company. But, still, she wasn't confronting or insulting anyone else.)

The point is, there is a sense of elegance and refinement that permeates the South, and it is prevalent among Shaggers. Another thing is their insistence that women be treated with respect -- their code of behavior does not tolerate rudeness, and I like that . . . I like that a lot.

One of the things I noticed at my first Shag weekend (besides the !!Music!! reverberating out of the ballroom) was the friendliness of the people . . . how they went out of their way to make newcomers feel welcome; how they'd talk with you, dance with you, draw you in and make you feel like they were genuinely glad you were there (they were!). This graciousness seems to be second nature to Southerners, who are born and raised with a sense of gentility and warmth that oozes out; it gets in and around and under you, and lifts you right up in a Southern embrace.

The Nation's Capital draws people from all over the country, and from around the world. But it is still very much a city with a distinct Southern flavor and charm. And the Northern Virginia Shag Club is drawing new members at an impressive rate, because we're more than just a dance club. We offer great music and dancing, but also great people, camaraderie, friendships, road trips, vacations, and a lot more fun than you'd expect.

Shag -- a Southern dance of style and grace. What an unexpected lesson in class.

MEMBERS! Opportunity to Present the Carolina Shag!

... by Patricia Parrott

The D.C. Hand Dance Preservation Society has invited the Northern Virginia Shag Club to participate with them in a "demo night" at Malibu's on Tuesday, June 6, at 8:30 p.m.

The demo night will spotlight three local dance styles: D.C. Hand Dance, West Coast Swing, and Carolina Shag. They want to have as many couples as possible dance to demonstrate these three similar but distinctly different styles of dance.

For further info, contact Louise Pyles at 301-899-7245, or Pat Parrott, 703-591-4113.

A Weekend of Magic . . .

Boogie on the Bay's annual event, "Magic Maydays" was a wonderful weekend romp, attended by many friends, old and new. The MUSIC was great, the FOOD was really good, the PEOPLE were wonderful as always, the DANCING was fantastic (and we learned a new step, "Magic," from KEITH ABERNATHY.

The BOTB Shag Club has purchased a NEW DANCE FLOOR, which is comparable to Virginia Beach's portable dance floor. KEITH purchased a section of the dance floor for NVSC, and NVSC members in attendance decorated and signed it to commemorate our attendance at this event.

Next year, YOU can help to decorate "our" section of the floor -- at MAGIC MAYDAYS!
